Hannah Isabel Grenade

A 24 year old web developer with a background in multimedia design. I have a strong eye for design and combined with a passion for frontend development, I create solutions that prioritize user experience while maintaining clean, efficient code. I thrive in work environments where i can work independently as well as in collaborative teams. Solving problems through code is what truly drives me. I love taking on challenges and I'm constantly motivated to improve my skills.

Currently seeking a 10 week internship, from august 2025, with the opportunity to apply my technical skills and creative problem-solving abilities in a professional setting.
